

Which streets are safe to walk in at night?

Sheffield University asked members to submit photos of streets where they felt either safe or not to walk at night. Professor Steve Fotios and his colleagues from the Lighting Research Group, in the School of Architecture, are researching ways to enhance street lighting, in order to support the visual needs of pedestrians, to find out more click on www.sheffield.ac.uk/social-sciences/news/using-street-lighting-support-pedestrian-safety-night